DETAILED ACTION

1. The Appeal Brief filed by Applicant on 12/06/2007 has been entered.

Response to Appeal Brief

2. Applicant's Appeal Brief filed on 12/06/2007 has been fully considered and the arguments contained therein are found persuasive.

3. The rejection of claims 1, 3, 5 and 7-12 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hentges et al., WO 95/12623 is withdrawn.

Allowable Subject Matter/Reasons for Allowance

4. Claims 1, 3, 5 and 7-12 are allowed.

5. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The closest prior art located or identified by the Examiner is Hentges. Hentges teaches a hydrogenated hydrocarbon resin suitable as tackifier where in the resin has a softening point of from 40 to 120°C. First, Hentges discloses a broad softening point range that covers both hydrogenated and nonhydrogenated ranges of the present claims. Hentges indirectly teaches the softening point range for the non-hydrogenated resins when the softening point range for the hydrogenated range is disclosed. Second, dicyclopentadiene is used in one instance as a chain transfer agent. However, in performing as a chain transfer agent it also acts as a monomer. The present invention differs from Hentges in the amount of dicyclopentadiene in the copolymer. The amount of dicyclopentadiene (70:30 to 80:20 dicyclopentadiene:vinyl substituted aromatic compound ratio) required in the present claims is outside of what a person of ordinary skill would consider obvious in light of the amount of dicyclopentadiene (0.29 wt. %) in Hentges.

6. As of the date of this Notice of Allowability, the Examiner has not located or identified any reference that can be used singularly or in combination with another reference including Hentges to render the present invention anticipated or obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art.

7. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion
